Sentry System™

Marvel's exclusive Sentry System™ refrigeration monitor operates in real time to actively maintain optimal preservation conditions. Many competitors systems monitor the compartment air temperature and only display the set-point. Our system uses intuitive controls to monitor and display temperatures representative of the content temperature. As a result the Marvel Sentry System™ is controlling the content temperature, not the compartment air temperature, to give you peace of mind that your wine is properly stored at your desired long-term storage or serving temperature. The Marvel Sentry System™ is your peace of mind that your wine is properly preserved.

- Distinctive visual and audible alarms indicate over/under temperature, power failure and door ajar conditions
- Temperature is easily regulated by user
- Elegant blue LED display shows real time temperature of wine or other contents
- Touch controls and electronic display are discreetly located
- Alarms are easily disabled if desired

A vibration-free environment restricts disruption of sediment, allowing wines to mature properly. The Marvel Chateau Collection Vibration Neutralization System (VNS) is a unique three-layer design that protects your wine from damaging vibration without sacrificing cabinet capacity.

1. The compressor is isolated from the wine storage cavity.
2. Vibration isolating mounts on the compressor offer a second layer of protection from vibration transfer.
3. A vibration dampening mat inserted onto each shelf absorbs any stray vibrations.

The difference is clear.

Simply freezing water also freezes any impurities that are in it, altering its taste—and any beverage it touches. That is why Marvel's clear ice machines utilize a specialized process that removes impurities during the freezing process. This results in clear, gourmet ice that perfectly chills beverages.
